AdvancED ASSIST to Re-shape School Improvement

AdvancED is preparing to launch a new innovation that will re-shape the continuous improvement process. AdvancED Adaptive System of School Improvement Support Tools (ASSIST) is the future of school improvement. ASSIST joins a world-class array of knowledge resources, practical implementation tools with interactive screens to create a fully integrated web-based system. This new technology can help schools ensure no compliance detail or improvement activity is missed during the improvement process. Districts, state agencies, and partner organizations also will benefit from ASSIST by harnessing the ability to aggregate and review, for the first time, how the practical work of school improvement is conducted at the local level. ASSIST allows schools and districts to gain a better understanding of past successes and opportunities and confidently build and implement a solid, research-based plan for the future.

Additionally, ASSIST will be available to schools and school systems in the AdvancED network at no additional fee. The use of ASSIST is a part of the benefits of being accredited through AdvancED. ASSIST merges the entire accreditation and school improvement process end to end.

At AdvancED we believe that students must be prepared to succeed in a constantly-evolving and diverse world and educational institutions have a deep responsibility to deliver quality education to their students. We're committed to helping educational providers of all types meet that responsibility by providing tools and resources like ASSIST.

As we move through the summer months and into the 2011-2012 school year, we'll keep you informed about ASSIST and the training that we will be offering on ASSIST in the coming year. In the meantime, if you have questions about ASSIST, please contact our office. We look forward to helping you re-shape school improvement.
